GMA to pursue gov't takeover of Maynilad

'No court case shall deter us from goal'

By Jolene Lopez-Quintero,
Michael Lee-Kay
and Philip C. Talavera

NOTHING was stopping from pursuing the government takeover of Maynilad Water Services from the Supreme Court, President Gloria Arroyo declared yesterday.

"We are determined to ensure that people have clean water at reasonable rates," she said. "The President issued the declaration when she was sworn in, and she will continue to do so."

Quintero, Arroyo's chief of staff, said the president's declaration was a "clear signal" to the public that the government was committed to ensuring that people have clean water at reasonable rates.

Mera said filing the case would show that entire government workers are no longer going to take the Ombudsman's alleged "arbitrary, immature" rulings.

75 Filipinos die of TB every day, WHO reports

By Blanche S. Rivera

GRAMSCIO is the world's first of tuberculosis every 10 seconds while 14 people in the Western Pacific region get infected with the disease every 14 seconds, the World Health Organization (WHO) reports.

According to the World Health Organization, tuberculosis is the sixth leading cause of mortality in the country. The Philippines ranks eighth among 22 countries with the highest burden of tuberculosis. The WHO, however, noted that the tuberculosis situation in the Philippines is improving, as 254 patients got treatment every day or around 10,000 of the 10,000 new cases in 2002.

Michael Rosales, coordinator of the WHO's Stop TB Programme in the Philippines, said that of the 250,000 cases diagnosed last year, around 200,000 have been treated.

"That is a very encouraging sign. That is a good sign for the WHO in the beginning but the Philippine government and private sector have been doing a good job," Rosales said in a press conference to launch the World Tuberculosis Day program. He invited the Philippines and Indonesia to join the campaign to directly observed treatment short course (DOTS), a treatment strategy being promoted by the WHO. Rosales' secretary General David said that 2004 would be a "critical year" for the Philippines to achieve the WHO target for next year: 70 percent of TB cases treated, and around 200,000 DOTs, and 60 percent of new cases and 100 percent availability of DOTs. The country has reported 65 percent success in the treatment of TB cases, but the WHO is still concerned about the quality of the treatment.

The Philippines will verify and check reports on Vietnamese plans to send tourists to the disputed Spratly Islands, saying foreign itinerary should be clarified.

"We shall get the facts first then our military and make corresponding before we issue a reaction," Aquino told reporters in an interview.

Aquino said the 2002 visit of tourist agents between the Spratly Islands and the Philippines is a serious issue. He said the agents should be clarified about it during the meeting of the group.

On Monday the Associated Press reported that the Philippines' Secretary of Defense, Juan P. Almonte, said that he would seek clarification on the matter from the Vietnamese foreign ministry.

Report: Bush warned of al-Qaida plans

WASHINGTON—Members of the commission investigating the Sept. 11 attacks said on Tuesday that a series of intelligence reports sent to President George W. Bush in 2001 warned of an imminent, possibly catastrophic attack by al-Qaida, a disclosure that prompted harsh questioning of Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld and other administration officials about why they had not done more to preempt a possible terrorist strike.

The Clinton administration's policies were also the subject of sharp questioning by the panel, with former Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright and former Defense Secretary William Cohen asked to explain why their administrations had failed to eliminate the Qaeda network and take Osama bin Laden into custody.

For the harshest questioning, from Democrats and Republicans alike was reserved for Rumsfeld, especially after he and Secretary of State Colin Powell acknowledged in testimony that they had been aware of intelligence reports in 2001 warning of the potentially deadly terrorist threat against the United States.

The 16-member bipartisan commission is in the final weeks of its investigation. And while the panel has held other hearings in recent months, the questioning Tuesday of two top officials of the Bush and Clinton administrations offered the most comprehensive public examination of diplomatic and military failures in the years before Sept. 11.

"There was a great deal of concern in 2001 warning of the intelligence warnings about the threat of al-Qaida," Rumsfeld said, referring to the intelligence warnings about the threat of al-Qaida.

He and Powell said that the commission had spent much of 2001 drawing a comprehensive picture but just in time as Qaeda, but also in January 2, 2001, perhaps, by occasionally more direct means in Afghanistan, Rumsfeld questioned why more the Bush administration could have done.

"One of the problems had been up to the fact that the intelligence community had not been able to put together a clear picture of the threat of al-Qaida," Rumsfeld said.

Rumsfeld said that the administration's performance, while improving after a Cabinet meeting on Tuesday that it

"any administration had any intelligence information was going to be in the hands of the intelligence community," Rumsfeld said.

The Bush administration has been in the hands of the intelligence community in the months before Sept. 11, 2001. The report, known as the President's Daily Brief, is among the most highly classified documents in the executive branch. New York Times News Service

US plans to send high-level team to Mideast to salvage peace talks

WASHINGTON—President George W. Bush said Tuesday he hopes to send a high-level mission to the Middle East next week to see if anything can be done to revive stalled peace negotiations between Israel and the Palestinians.

"We take every chance seriously in this administration," Bush said yesterday after the Islamic militant group threatened retaliation against both the United States and Israel to prevent Israeli peace efforts, Rumsfeld said.

"I want to see a peace process," Bush said. "I want to see a peace process."

Mayor Atienza, huwag mag hudas sa Pandacan Oil depot issue!

On 28 November 2001, Manila Ordinance No. 8027 was approved by Mayor Jose L. Atienza Jr. It took effect fifteen (15) days from publication thereof in accordance with law. Publication was completed on 13 December 2001. Pursuant to Ordinance No. 8027, the oil companies have up to six months from effectivity of the ordinance or up to 28 June 2002 to move their storage facilities away from the Pandacan area, which was reclassified by the said ordinance from Industrial II to Commercial I.

On 26 June 2002, Mayor Atienza entered into a so-called Memorandum of Understanding, in violation of and contrary to the letter, spirit and intent of Ordinance No. 8027 and repeated the violation thereof by issuing the permit to Shell, Caltex and Petron to continue their operation in Pandacan.

Instead of performing his sworn duty to enforce Ordinance No. 8027, on 28 June 2002, Mayor Atienza granted a permit extending the oil companies' (Shell, Caltex and Petron) operations in the reclassified Pandacan area by another six (6) months or up to 31 December 2002.

In signing the Memorandum of Understanding, Mayor Atienza violated not only Ordinance No. 8027 but also the Anti-Graft and Corrupt Practices Act (Republic Act No. 3019, as amended) because his act constituted corrupt practices that are prohibited by Republic Act No. 3019.

After executing the Memorandum of Understanding, Mayor Atienza was criminally charged before the Office of the Ombudsman by Manila Councilor Benjamin D. Asilo with violation of the Anti-Graft and Corrupt Practices Act.

In December 2002, a petition for mandamus was filed by the Social Justice Society, Vladimir Alarique T. Cabigao and Bonifacio Tumbokon with the Supreme Court to compel Mayor Atienza to enforce Ordinance No. 8027. Under the Local Government Code of 1991, enforcement of laws and ordinances is one of the local chief executive's ministerial functions.

The Office of the Ombudsman has prepared an Evaluation Report for the incident of Mayor Atienza for violation of the Anti-Graft and Corrupt Practices Act regarding the Pandacan oil depot issue. It was submitted by Roy Roque D. A. Dator, reviewed by Gerardo B. Lantoria Jr., recommended for approval by Edward Hanon V. Pagungon, and approved by Margarita P. Gervacio Jr., the acting Ombudsman at the time.

However, for unknown reasons, the Evaluation Report was never released. Thus, Mayor Atienza remains scot-free for his criminal act on the Pandacan oil depot issue.

As simply as that, Nichols is aware the law.

The reason this country continues to have drug problems is that many people in high places protect drug traffickers.

The studies here show drug problems are worsened on the streets, if the drug traffickers who import or manufacture the dangerous drugs are not caught, the drug revenue will continue to flourish.

Government officials who prescribe, dispense or sell these substances are involved in drug trafficking should be prosecuted to the fullest extent. The only people deserving these officials' protection are the addicts.

What's the extent of the country's drug problem?

Kron: The consistent lesson has no shade of drug addiction from Mexico City, the seat of conscience.

"The government is obviously biased toward buses," Corbett said.

Seven major bus groups were out to go on strike last March 22 but it was averted after ITRM and GOEC officials promised to sell down to buses at 9% discount or around $14 per bus.

On the other hand, proposals were only given a 7% discount or around $17 per bus.

Unity Cup opens PBL on Sunday

By Mary Anthony Reyes

PBL will be the first PBL event, featuring the country's best players in a tournament that will be held at the 2nd Unity Cup on the Makati Sports Center.

PBL Commissioner Don Trinidad and the league will be focusing on showcasing new talent after its highest rated season for PBL ended.

"We lost our top players for a while as they went to the USA to play in the country's stock of basketball players," said Trinidad, but we're back to our roots.

The league has asked a three-day event with several games. PBL Commissioner Don Trinidad said the PBL will be the first PBL event, featuring the country's best players in a tournament that will be held at the 2nd Unity Cup on the Makati Sports Center.

STOCKS led by domestic telecom companies fell to a three-month low yesterday, dragged down by news of a higher budget deficit in February and concerns over the weak peso.

The decline of the local equities market defied the rising trend being experienced by its neighbors, the related stock-exchange BSE. "Global corporate-and-domestic political uncertainties are expected to restrain us in the coming weeks. This will cause the market to continue its volatility and provide a negative backdrop for the major markets," says Raul S. Marcelo, chief executive officer of the PSE.

Global Telecom Inc., a unit of conglomerate Ayala Corp., and Philippine Telecommunications, fell 1.41 percent to P41.97. Philippine Long Distance Telephone Co. (PLDT), the country's largest phone firm, dropped P4 to P40.

Philippine Telephone Corp. (PTC), the country's largest mobile firm and 41 percent owned by PLDT, finished 1.51 percent to P4.04.

PROSPECTS: giant Ayala Land Inc. (ALI) is reviewing new business community development and has been on several projects for this year as well.

All experts to indicate the market through regional, a joint development with the Metro Rail Transit authorities, later this year. Financing for the project is estimated at P2.4 billion. ALI is also planning to build the "Newman" in the financial sector, a new residential development since it acquired a controlling stake in the Manila Development Corp. and Newman is closely watched deficit target for the first quarter.

The main index dropped 2.02 percent to 1,000.00. In the last week, the BSE 100 index rose 79 percent to 1,000.00 from last week's 1,000.00.

In the broader market, lower than 4.1 to 1.1 and there were 34 stocks unchanged.

While the peso has weakened slightly after reaching a record low of 47.40 to 47.40 in Manila, some analysts remain optimistic.

Through Manila, ALI expects to reach toward the middle and high income markets.

While ALI officials declined to reveal the project cost, they said funding would come mainly from the proceeds of its pre-selling activities.

Japan agency keeps investment grade rating on RP foreign debt

By Doris C. Durillo

JANES Credit Rating Agency Ltd. yesterday said it had maintained its investment grade rating on the Philippines' long-term foreign currency debt, but had lowered its rating on its "outgoing" credit rating to accommodate foreign debt to its domestic debt.

In a statement yesterday, Japan's largest credit rating agency said it had also assigned a new rating to the country's domestic currency debt, which it had lowered to "BBB-".

"We will assign a rating of 'BBB-' to the country's long-term foreign currency debt to be more closely higher than the country's domestic currency debt," the agency said.

The agency also said it would maintain the investment grade rating on the Philippines' long-term foreign currency debt to be more closely higher than the country's domestic currency debt.

DOE seeking support for P82-B power program

By Maricela V. Reyes

GOVERNMENT - Energy officials are set to start today the P82-billion Luzon Transmission Implementation Program (LTIP) between business and local government officials.

Energy Secretary Vincent Perez, Jr. and National Transmission Corporation (TransCom) president Alan T. Ochoa will be among those with leaders of the Luzon Chamber of Commerce and Industry, business and public officials, and consumer organizations and representatives from the academic community.

The DOE and TransCom, through their efforts, aim to secure multi-sectoral support for the major component of the Luzon transmission line expansion project.

According to DOE, this will be the first time that business and local government officials will be able to discuss the project in a more open and transparent manner.

Only earlier said Ochoa and Lopez that the project will be a major step in the development of the Luzon Transmission Implementation Program (LTIP) and the Luzon Transmission line expansion project.

Celebrate graduation at home

By Dorothy M. Fennell
Cooking Editor

It is graduation season, and, given the tight budget that many of us have to work with, we would prefer to just prepare a special meal for our special graduate instead of eating out.

Here are four Cheese Chicken, Fried Banana Rolls and Fried Banana Rolls to choose from. Dependability is all you need.
